

Cary Gastroenterology Associates is currently recruiting for a female Gastroenterologist to join our Women's Center for GI Health. Our gastroenterology team features the expertise of 7 board-certified physicians with a passion for traditional and preventive medicine for adults. We are committed to excellence in our approach to general gastroenterology care in the outpatient and inpatient settings. We are looking for an experienced Gastroenterologist desiring to work in an uplifting environment who will contribute to the growth and expansion of our Women's Center.

As a division of Cary Gastroenterology Associates, the Women's Center for GI Health offers exceptional care and service to women, by women, with all female physicians and staff. Our private practice offers comprehensive outpatient services including our own pathology lab, capsule endoscopy, manometry, breath testing and hemorrhoid banding. We have offices in Raleigh, Cary and Holly Springs and perform procedures at three locations of the Raleigh Endoscopy Center, as well as at WakeMed Cary Hospital.

Cary Gastroenterology is located in a thriving professional suburb within the Triangle area. The Triangle is home to Duke University, NC State University and the University of NC at Chapel Hill. It has much to offer and provides a family friendly environment with plentiful educational, sports, social, and cultural activities.
