

Chauhan, Shailendra BIO

I'm an Associate Professor of Medicine at Atrium Health Wake Forest Gastroenterology (in Charlotte) since 2016. Prior to moving to NC, I have held GI faculty positions at the University of Florida and University of Cincinnati. I'm trained in interventional endoscopy and enjoy hands-on and didactic teaching our advanced and general GI fellows. I have clinical interests in patients with disorders of the pancreas, bile duct and other luminal GI disorders. I also have an interest in advanced endoscopic resection techniques (e.g.: ESD, EMR, full thickness resection).
